Going Forward By Going Backward

Now there is a paradox for you.

Microsoft recently updated my computer, again. And, again, I lost my sermon distribution lists. But this time I lost even more. My entire contacts list and complete calendar went away.

After making several attempts to restore them, I finally called Microsoft help line. I talked to a lady for whom it seemed English was a second language. But a very good second language. She proved to be very knowledgeable, extremely helpful and very patient.

She walked me through the steps of telling my computer to use the older version of outlook when dealing with my contacts and calendar until the cloud is updated.

How about that, going forward by going backwards.

The process reminded me of an old sermon topic, "Forward, back to Jerusalem."

This is the theme of a constant warning God gives us. One specific location for the warning is Hebrews 2:1-4. We must keep a constant watch on ourselves to make sure we are not drifting away from the message that was delivered to us. If we find ourselves drifting, we must quickly go back to that message. Going backward to what God has spoken is the only way to move forward in our relationship with Him.

"He who rejects Me and does not receive My sayings, has one who judges him; the word I spoke is what will judge him at the last day." (Jn. 12:48 ) Going back to Jesus is the only way to proceed through the judgment.

Flirting Tony Brimingham

We have just completed another successful season of Leadership Training for Christ. This is such a beneficial program not only for spiritual growth, but also for Bible knowledge. It makes my heart beam to see our kids sit down after nailing a quality speech or acing their song in song leading. I love to see the excitement and the anxiety of our kids as they come out of their shell and step out of the box with a drama skit or chorus melody. I would love to see 100% participation from our youth group and I hope that you will consider this in the future if you are not participating.

Saturday afternoon - Most of the events are winding down and pockets of kids are gathering as relief is setting in on a job well done. One of the gatherings consists of teenagers from many congregations. They are sitting in a circle, boys on one side and girls on the other side. They are singing at the top of their lungs. They are praising God in the most awesome way possible. They are having fun. They are smiling and laughing at each other. As I watched the group from a distance, I noticed that one boy seemed to be looking and smiling at one girl. Then I noticed the same from another boy. There seemed to be some magic. There seemed to be a twinkle in the smile as the boys looked across the divide.

As I stood at a distance and watched and listened, another parent came up to me and said, "FLIRTING, CHURCH OF CHRIST STYLE". I liked this kind of flirting. As I thought about and continued to listen to their angelic voices, I thought to myself, they are flirting with God. They are wanting to show their love for God. They are wanting everyone to hear their love for God. Their love for God was on display for all to see.

In my day to day life, do I flirt with God? Does the twinkle in my smile say that I am a Child of God? Do my actions say to those around me that there is no doubt who I belong to?

The LORD is my strength and my shield;
my heart trusts in him, and he helps me.
MY HEART LEAPS FOR JOY, and with my song I praise him.

Psalm 28:7

Happy Scott Pruitt

Over Spring Break, the Bassetts allowed the Pruitts to tag along with them to Disney World. We called it the Pru-Setts Vacation.

As we approached the front gate, security escorted Kim and Jackson into the security "Bag Check" line. There were two lines, but Kim's line seemed to be going much slower but also filled with many more smiles and laughter. This is why...

Before the security guard began checking Kim's backpack, he gave her a ginormous grin and a Disney "Hel-looooo!" Then, he began asking her some thought provoking questions (all with a smile on his face)

Security: "Got any poisonous apples in here?"

Kim: "No Sir"

Security: "Any mousetraps?"

Kim: "No Sir" (Giggling)

Security: "Got any secret compartments in here?"

Kim: "No Sir" The guard paused, looked at her very seriously and said, "You wouldn't tell me if you did, would you?"

Kim laughed as she responded with a happy, "No Sir"

He gently zipped her backpack, helped put it back on her shoulder and danced as he exclaimed, "Have a magical day!" Who knew that anyone could have such a joyful experience going through security?

Although it took a few minutes longer to pass the inspection, Kim was so thankful to be in his line versus the other security line. She was...grumpy and half heartedly doing her job. She certainly was NOT passing Disney Happiness Standards.

I still can't stop thinking about that moment when Kim joined the rest of our group as she was laughing hysterically telling her experience. What a joyful way to start your day.

Do people remember you because of your joy OR grumpiness?

<sup>19</sup> For what is our hope, our joy, or the crown in which we will glory in the presence of our Lord Jesus when he comes? Is it not you? <sup>20</sup> Indeed, you are our glory and joy. (1Th 2:19-20 NIV)

It Is Not How We Start, But How We Finish

1 Samuel 12:14, 24,25

If you will fear the Lord and serve Him, and listen to His voice and not rebel against the command of the Lord, then both you and also the king who reigns over you will follow the Lord your God. 24 Only fear the Lord and serve Him in truth with all your heart; for consider what great things He has done for you. 25 But if you still do wickedly, both you and your king will be swept away."

This quarter I'm teaching the life of king Saul. There is so much to learn from the life of this man, and I hate to say that what I learned most is what not to do. He was a great young person. He was humble and not too confident, but something changed that turned him into a different person. Throughout the life of king Saul, there is a theme that keeps popping up. Fear God and serve him. This was God's command to the king and the people, but they both failed to do this and paid the consequences.

The story of Saul reminds me, not how we start, but how we finish that matters. If you want to add to that...the manner in which we finish will say a lot about who we are. God wants us to finish in our Christian walk. We all have started our Christian walk. Let's make sure we finish!

- David
